OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Friday - 23 October 1964

1. [redacted] and John S. Warner met with Glenn Smith and James Kendall of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee staff to furnish them a briefing on the Chinese nuclear program. Kendall and Smith were appreciative of the Agency taking the time for this. See Memorandum for the Record for further details.

2. [redacted] Delivered the Legislative Counsel's letter to the office of Representative Charles Bennett (D., Fla.) concerning the employment application of [redacted] and advised his assistant that this is a case on which there probably is no office file. The Congressman had requested that we handle the matter on his behalf.

3. [redacted] Met with Sam Archibald, on the staff of the Information Subcommittee of House Government Operations Committee, and went over the NIS Reference Guide and Annual Production Status booklets explaining how they were set up and the function they served. I also explained that the NIS's themselves were prepared for the intelligence community, that material for these studies was prepared by other elements of the intelligence community in addition to CIA, and that the Agency was not in a position to make them available outside the intelligence community since these were, in effect, the property of the United States Intelligence Board. Mr. Archibald said he appreciated this and felt that on the basis of a preliminary review the material was too detailed for his use. However, he wished to give the matter further thought. I also showed him the World Mark Encyclopedia and explained the scope of it to him. He indicated a strong interest in the encyclopedia and said he thought this was more suited to the Subcommittee's needs. He thanked us for making this material available to him.

5.  George Murphy, Joint Committee on Atomic Energy staff, called and asked several probing questions concerning Representative Harris B. McDowell's recent statement following a briefing given the Foreign Affairs Committee by the Secretary of State in some extremely sensitive areas. I referred Murphy to the Washington Post item of 22 October which he had not seen and also suggested that if he desired further information he contact the State Department.
